ST. ALBANS, VT.:
MONDAY, JULY 6, 1868.

Local Items.

Interesting matter, original or selected, may always be found on the first page.

The passenger train for Rouse's Point, Ogdensburg and the West, which has heretofore left St. Albans at 7:15 p. m., will on and after to-day leave at 7:05, as will be seen by reference to the advertisement on the first page of the TRANSCRIPT.

The venerable mother of the Hon. A. O. Aldis died at Brattleboro Saturday afternoon, at the advanced age of 97 yrs. Her remains will arrive in St. Albans this evening, and her funeral will take place to-morrow from the Episcopal church. The hour of the funeral has not been definitely decided upon.

The Glorious Fourth.

If the 92d anniversary of American independence was not celebrated enthusiastically in St. Albans on the 4th it was celebrated with spirit and satisfaction, we think. There was a large turnout, and the park and streets presented a very animated appearance. The extreme heat of the day induced more quiet than is usual upon "the day we celebrate," and gallily dressed groups chatted, reclining under the shade of spreading trees like Titius under his beach, and thanking the goddess of Liberty for their otium.

The programme published in our paper on Friday was carried out in form if not exactly in time. The Water Witch fire company, of Northfield, with their fire engine beautifully decorated, came in early in the morning. Doctor George Nichols, Secretary of State, is Foreman of this company, Frank A. Clator First Assistant, and Mr. Robbins Second Assistant. Our own companies, Washington No. 1, and Frontier No. 2, headed by the St. Albans Brigade Band, marched down to the depot in fine style to receive the Northfield company. A very beautiful decorative feature of each engine consisted in placing two little girls, elegantly dressed, upon them, amid the wreaths and banners. Those on Washington No. 1 were children respectively of Mr. Swett, foreman of the company, and Mr. Norwich, first assistant; those on Frontier No. 2, of Mr. J. P. Fisk, foreman, and Mr. R. Camp; and those on the Water Witch were Miss Alice Eastman and Miss Rosanna Mack, of St. Albans, and a little son of Mrs. Bates, of Northfield was put in as an appropriate "thorn amid roses."

The Plattsburgh fire company, Horizon No. 3, came over by the new ferry, but without their engine, as the authorities of that place would not consent to its absence. The Plattsburgh Band accompanied them, and gave us some excellent music. The Green Mountain Martial Band, from Fairfax and Westford, was present also, and elicited abundant admiration.

As there was but one company present from abroad, with an engine, the contest for the moderate prize offered was of course impossible; but the prize of $100 was given, nevertheless, to the Water Witch, and the one of $50 to the gentleman representing Horizon No. 3, though it was won, we understand, by Frontier No. 2, in a friendly competition outside the regular programme. In this competition each company used 300 feet of hose, and threw as follows:

Washington No. 1, of St. Albans, 151 feet 11 inches.

Water Witch, No. 2, of Northfield, 150 feet.

Frontier No. 2, of St. Albans, 156 feet. The Northfield firemen were entertained at dinner by the Frontiers, at the Welden House. The Plattsburgh company, of which Mr. John Smith is foreman, and Mr. Rogers 1st Assistant, stopped with the Plattsburgh band and the Green Mountain Martial band, at the American. Capt. Smith possesses a prize trumpet worth $150.

During the firing of the military salute a premature discharge of the Napoleon 12-pounder occurred, which fortunately resulted in no great injury. The rammer of the piece was sent across the park, severing a limb of good size from one of the trees, and entering the basement window of the post-office. One or two serving the piece were also stunned, but received no severe injuries. The cause of the explosion was the insertion of the cartridge without sponging out the piece.

A large number of people were present in town, and seemed to enjoy the time agreeably and quietly. It cannot be said that the celebration was a very jubilant or enthusiastic affair, and so far as the tournament is concerned it was a failure; yet the day was passed pleasantly, and on the whole, the celebration was worth all it cost, probably, and is not an object of regret to those concerned in it.

There was little intoxication exhibited in our town, and no disorderly conduct, except, we believe, in the case of a feminine citizen of color, from abroad, who was in favor of force on her own part, but opposed to it on the part of the police, whose arrangements were admirable and effective.

DEATH OF MAJOR TENNEY.—We are pained to announce the death of Major Harvey Tenney, who died of Erysipelas after an illness of five days, at his residence in St. Albans on the evening of July 4th, aged 64 years. Major Tenney was Master Bridge Builder of the Vermont Central and Vermont and Canada Railroads, and has been in the employ of the company about seventeen years. He was emphatically the master of his business, an honest man, and the managers of the road had the fullest confidence in his qualifications and integrity. He was, we believe, a native of Lebanon, N. H., where his remains were taken for burial on the mail train this morning. Superintendent Giles Merrill, Messrs. J. W. Hobart, A. Tinker, Charles H. Clark, together with a considerable number of the bridge builders and employees of the road accompanied the remains to their final resting place. A special car beautifully draped in mourning was set apart for a funeral cortege. The flags upon the Depot and Railroad Buildings floated to-day at half mast on account of this sad dispensation of Providence. Many there are who will read this announcement with sorrow and will long mourn the loss of a faithful associate, a true friend, valued citizen, a modest and an upright man.

THE CONCERT.—A handsome audience welcomed the Mount Washington Band Friday night, in Academy Hall, and the entertainment was a satisfactory one, some parts of it being exceedingly fine. The best of the entertainment was the singing by Miss Butler. She has a sweet voice, of fair compass, and filled the hall occasionally with notes as musical as any birds. Mr. Kendall also gave some pleasing vocal music, and was funny enough in his "trip to Niagara," in which he hit off the "old gent" capitally. We think no one regretted his presence at the concert.

What we said above about the audience being a handsome one, may be taken with a double meaning, if the remarks of Major Gibson, lately here, contains a fair judgment—and we are not going to throw any doubt upon it. The gallant old soldier said, ladies, that St. Albans contained the best looking women, taking them all together, and individually, of any place he was ever in; and that there was more beauty here than in the city of Boston.

LOST.—A copy of the London Times, of June 21st, and a copy of Punch. The finder will confer a favor by leaving them at the office of the TRANSCRIPT.

A Lay Sermon.

TEXT.—Plattsburgh Republican, July 3. The Vermont Daily Transcript, published at St. Albans, has reached its forty-fifth number, and appears to be gaining daily in manner and matter. W. P. DAVIS and ALMONT BARNES are the editors. The weekly Transcript is one of the largest as well as best printed sheets in Vermont. We wish our neighbors all pecuniary success.

DISCOURSE.

SUBSCRIBE, AND PAY.
NOTE.—It may not be improper to add that there will follow a satisfactory benediction, with recessional music, by the family choir.
N. B.—No passing around hats.

NOT APPRECIATED.—As an evidence that we cannot all see matters alike we print an item from the Vermont Record, concerning a valued patron and contributor. It would seem that the Record is a little severe. It says:

Won't the editor of the Transcript at St. Albans catch and cage "Agricola" for the Golden Menagerie of Van Amburgh & Co? We think for apparently unconscious silliness, and total lack of perception, we never saw or heard tell of "Agricola's" equal.

A NEW STAGE.—Mr. Horace Jennison has put a new stage on the route between St. Albans and Richford. It was built in Concord at a large expense and is in every respect a handsome "institution." The "Major" is to be congratulated on the fine appearance of the several stage teams of which he is the gentlemanly and obliging proprietor.

A CARD.

Water Witch, No. 1, fire company, of Northfield, respectfully return thanks through the TRANSCRIPT to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Eastman for decorating their engine with young ladies; and also to Frontier Company, No. 2, for the generous entertainment received at their hands, on the 4th of July.

GEO. NICHOLS,
Foreman Water Witch, No. 1, Northfield.

STONE & MURRAY'S CIRCUS.—This Circus exhibited in Burlington on the 4th of July and the Times thus speaks of it:
The circus had its grand entree, after the most "magnificent style," as set forth in the illuminated posters, and their performances during the day and evening afforded much fun to their audiences. The troupe, though suffering under great disadvantage, "Jeune Berte" being incapacitated by severe illness from appearing, gave a splendid entertainment. The eccentrically costumed clowns, John Henry Cooke in his wonderful equestrian, juggling feats, and the extraordinary performances of Mlle. Elsie on the tight-rope, gave the show a popularity which they well deserve. The receipts were about $2000.

The Fourth at Richford.

THE RACES.

The Fourth passed off quietly in Richford—how could it be otherwise with the thermometer at 103 degrees in the shade, and scarcely a breath of air stirring? The heat and dust were enough to make one long for ice, or a residence in the northern part of "Wall-Russia." Again your correspondent is indebted to CAPT. L. ROUNDS, Secretary for the full report of the "Annual Races" which came off here on the Richford Tooting Park.

On Friday evening there were two balls in this place, at the Union and American Houses. All unite in saying they were very pleasant affairs. I am informed that there were about eighty couples at each house.

among Life Insurance Companies, and many statements when soliciting for risks, hence it is all important for persons intending to insure
